Murder Committed in Building College Legend
Long Has Pictured as Being "Haunted."

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Baton Rouge, La., June 8.—With every clue apparently exhausted, the authorities investigating the killing here yesterday with an ax of Oscar B. Turner, instructor at Louisiana State university, were today admit-tingly considering the possibility that the crime may remain unsolved.

Continuation of the coroner's in-quest, which had been in session most of today, was fruitless. Eight stu-dents, among them two Chinese, were summoned and took the stand, but their testimony failed to disclose any new facts concerning the case.

Robbery, a possible case of jeal-ousy, an old enemy and a student, either inflamed with hatred against the dead instructor or caught rifling a desk from which examination pa-pers were missed, were the only mo-tives police had to go on and all led to nothing.

One Student Under Suspicion.

One student is under suspicion, of-ficers said tonight, but beyond that they refuse to talk. It is known, however, that members of the student body have openly discussed the sus-picion which is against this man.

By a strange twist of chance, the killing was committed in a building rich with the legend of the old uni-versity. The agronomy building, in which Mr. Turner was found dying, was built in 1835 as a government arsenal, and bears the popular repu-tation of being "haunted."

With a drizzling rain falling today and massive oaks dripping with mois-ture, flanking it on all sides, the old structure seemed a fitting stage for a crime as brutal as the slaying com-mitted there yesterday.

Time He Was Slain.

It was established during the in-quest today that the slain instructor was attacked between 7:30 and 8:15 Sunday morning. He left his quar-ters at 7:10 and at about 8:15 was found dying in the entrance hall of the agronomy building, by R. G. Markham, his assistant.

Emile J. Raffo, a student, appeared a moment later and aided the assis-tant in getting the unconscious man to a hospital, where he died two hours later.

The hand ax, which is believed to have been used in the killing and which was found lying near the body with a blood-stained smear on the handle, has failed to furnish a clue. Photographic reproductions of the stains upon it indicate the slayer wore gloves or destroyed any tell-tale finger prints before dropping the weapon.

Relatives of the dead man came to Baton Rouge today from Alabama and Illinois and claimed the body. It will be sent to Plymouth, Ill., the home of his family, for burial.

CARROLL TAKES

Tennessee Bank Official

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Jackson, Tenn., June 8.—"I did not have the courage to admit mis-takes—I concealed them," Thomas B. Carroll, former executive vice presi-dent of the People's Savings bank, now facing liquidation as a result of the discovery of a shortage, said to amount to more than $300,000, de-clared today in a written statement to the stockholders, with the declara-tion that "for the calamity which has come to you and all of us I assume, with grief and despair, a full mea-sure of responsibility."

Attorney General Murray today re-quested the state bank examiner to obtain a detailed statement from Car-roll as to the alleged peculations.

In his statement made public to-day, the former cashier gave no in-formation as to the disposition of the money, but denied that "the funds involved in the shortage existing in the bank" had been used "with any idea of benefit or profit" and said, nor that any part had been used in gambling transactions.

"The duties and responsibilities of managing a bank have proven to be beyond my capacity and disposi-tion," Carroll said. "I was am-bitious to make the bank a large and prosperous one. I did not have the courage to admit mistakes. I concealed them. The mistakes in-creased. I tried to cover up the

French and British
Reach Agreement
On Security PactLIGHTS OF
NEW YORK

As Seen by—
Pierre Van Paassen

New York, June 7.—For stories of heart-breaking tragedy you must cul-tivate the acquaintance of some wait-ress or other. I have never struck one yet who could not bring tears to her own eyes at least, with a magnifi-cent tale of woe.

Still there are some genuine cases of blasted hopes and bitter disillusion-ment among the girls. For instance at the Shelburne I knew a girl, who was formerly the leading lady in the famous chorus of Billy Watson's Beef Trust. Her health broke down and instead of tripping before the foot-lights she now lugs heavy dinner trays.

Another girl there told me her father in a little town in Maine lives under the impression that his daugh-ter is a great stage success. She set out with that idea from home ten years ago. After trudging up and down the city agencies for three months she landed a job dishwashing.

There is a certain smart hotel uptown which notifies its out-of-town male patrons that it will supply them with a hostess at $50 a day. The fifty in-cludes one meal at the hotel, one theater and entrance to one ex-clusive, supper club or cabaret. The hostess acts as the lonely male's companion on his com-binations up and down Broad-way.

Where did the hotel get the idea? "Tis said a delegate to the late lamented democratic con-vention was the originator of that brilliant coup.

Hitherto the Black Maria has been the only vehicle in New York where you could get a free ride. One of the taxicab companies has destroyed Maria's ancient monopoly. Any per-son feeling ill or indisposed on the streets may summon one of this com-pany's cabs and will get free trans-portion to any point desired.

When the company extends the privilege to anyone faced with a sud-den emergency, it had to include mem-bers of the police force as a next step. A burglar caught red-handed, barely escaped and rushing down the street, may aptly be described as a man in an emergency. Hence the in-clusion of the cops in the new order.

Nobody seems to be able to answer this question, at least not in New York. Why is it that all chop-suey houses on Broadway are on the second floor?

There are schools in New York where they turn out actresses, journalists, scientific bootleggers, pickpockets, sausage makers and press agents.

Another institution of learn-ing recently founded is the Police college. A rookie must spend three months within its marble halls before he becomes a full-fledged flat-foot. Benny Leon and was appointed a member of the faculty the other day. I have written Professor Leonard to supply me with words and music of the college yell.

Speaking about schools of crime in a more serious manner, there is a poolroom near 46th street and Broadway, where a long row of young fellows, many not over eighteen, line up round midnight to get a pinch of coke. A big, tough-looking individual with shifty eyes and gelatinous jowls hands out the soul-destroying stuff.

The boys are practically his slaves. Many of them are sneak thieves, and pickpockets. They bring their loot to the boss in exchange for a grain of so of the white powder.

The wonder is not, as I look on it now, how I got into that "pool-room" and saw this staggering pro-cedure, but the miracle is that I got out alive.

George Luke, recognized as one of America's most promising young painters, is fully aware of his own gifts and genius, even outspokenly so. He says no man will ever reach greatness who is not conscious of his powers. At his studio the other day, a long-legged elderly matron ap-proached George with that patroniz-ing air, so generally detested by ar-tists. "That is rather a nice piece of work," said the lady, as she pointed to a little sketch. "You're damn right," shot back the master. "I did it myself."

Will Be Guaranteed.

BERLIN MUST ENTER
LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Belgium Is Fourth Member of Pact—Poland and Czecho-Slovakia Disappointed Over Result.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Geneva, June 8.—Great Britain and France reached a complete accord today on the problems of European security, and if Germany, to whom the accord soon will be sent, agrees to the conditions, a four-power pact will come into being, based on the in-violability of the Rhine frontiers as delimited by the Versailles treaty.

The pact will include Great Brit-ain, France, Belgium and Germany. Italy is not included, though the text will be communicated to her out of courtesy, and Poland and Czecho-Slovakia are not directly affected, though they will benefit by the op-eration of France's alliance with them.

The next step in the negotiations will be the despatch by France to Germany, also in behalf of Great Britain and Belgium, of a letter re-plying to Germany's offer to negoti-ate a pact of guarantees for the Ger-man frontiers bordering on France and Belgium.

Poles, Czechs Are Disappointed.

There are some indications of dis-appointment in Polish and Czecho-Slovakian circles that their countries do not specifically enter the domain of the proposed pact.

It is understood that Great Brit-ain agrees to come to the support of France with her entire military, naval and air forces in case France is attacked, or in case of any ag-gression across the Rhine district. This constitutes an elaboration of an obligation already contained in the Versailles treaty whereby the allies agree to regard as a hostile act any infringement of the demilitarized zone between France and Germany.

Retires Wilson Agreement.

Great Britain gives rebirth to the old Wilson tripartite act, on the ground that her national interests de-mand peace in western Europe. She declines to commit herself to guaran-tees concerning Germany's eastern frontiers, because she realizes that the British dominions would not approve of such a commitment.

Italy's exclusion from the pact is due to the fact that it is based on the Rhineland, and Italy is free to make a separate agreement with Aus-tria and Germany.

The conclusion of the Rhineland pact is conditional on Germany's en-tering the league of nations, and this agreement, like the others, will be linked with league covenant and op-erate under it.

Canton, China, June 8.—Fighting that commenced Saturday afternoon between Yunnanese and Cantonese troops has continued incessantly for 40 hours, but so far as is known has resulted in only slight casualties.

Early today four Cantonese gun-boats appeared around the island of Honan, opposite Canton, and opened heavy fire directly on the Bund. The Yunnanese answered from the shore.

The gunboats passed Dutch Folies island, turned and then came back again, pouring in heavy fire from small guns and machine guns, finally disappearing around the island.

Electrical Equipment of Georgia Railway and Power Company Is Injured by Lightning.

DAMAGE TO CROPS
STOPPED BY RAINS

Wave of Relief From Extreme Heat Comes in Wake of Showers in Atlanta and Other Cities.

Approximately $50,000 damages to electrical equipment of the Geor-gia Railway and Power company was caused Monday night by lightning, which accompanied a heavy down-pour of rain, according to officials.

Showers of early Monday after-noon and the hard rain at night, however, brought a wave of relief from the extreme heat, throughout the state, and renewed hope to farmers, whose crops have been scorched by the long drought.

Equipment Damaged.

One of the largest electric stations at the Atlantic Steel company was knocked out of commission by light-nings Monday night and a number of primaries feeding the residential sec-tion were put out of order, it was stated.

The Bull Sluice line to the Davis street station was burned out, two wires right in the station house fusing and two oil switches burning out.

Lightning struck the line of the At-lanta-Northern electric railway to Ma-rietta, and kept it out of commission for an hour and 20 minutes. The longest interruption in street railway traffic from the lightning was 10 min-utes.

Local Thunderstorms.

Local thunderstorms, local showers and slightly lower temperatures is today's weather menu for this sec-tion, according to Forecaster A. H. Scott, of the local weather, acting in the absence from the city of C. F. von Herrmann.

Scattered thunder clouds and inter-mittent showers during Monday, were accompanied by a slight drop in the mercury, beginning Monday morning at 5:30 o'clock to 70 degrees. A steady climb was started, however, and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon the day's high mark was registered at 88 de-grees, or one degree lower than Sun-day's highest point.

Crops Are Damaged.

Truck crops, tobacco, corn and other grain crops have suffered seriously during the drought and hot wave, but with general rainfall predicted this week these crops are expected to take on new life and the damage from lack of moisture and the extreme heat wave will be greatly reduced, according to reports at the office of Commissioner of Agriculture J. J. Brown. Cotton also has suf-fered, particularly in sections where

SECRETARY WILBUR
DECLINES TO SEND
AIRSHIP TO ARCTIC

Washington, June 8.—The airship Los Angeles was directed by Sec-etary Wilbur today to resume its flight to Minnesota as soon as nec-essary engine repairs have been made.

It is expected that the dirigible, which turned back after getting as far as Cleveland yesterday, because of engine trouble, will be able to leave Lakehurst, N. J., for its sec-ond attempt in about two days, if weather conditions are favorable.

At the same time, the secretary announced that the request of the Norwegian aero club that the United States navy send the dirigible Los Angeles or Shenandoah in search of the Amundsen polar expedition had been refused.

Plans No Wild Chase.

The request was transmitted to President Coolidge while he was en route to Minnesota, and was referred by him to Secretary Wilbur. The navy department, the secretary said, had not changed its original opinion that such an expedition was not feasi-ble.

"We are no going to send any wild goose chase to the polar re-gions," he declared.

Mr. Wilbur said the experience of the Los Angeles yesterday gave one more illustration in support of the view that it would be futile to de-pend for national defense exclusively upon the reliability of gasoline en-gines. The efficiency of aircraft, he asserted, is dependent upon the effi-ciency of their engines, and while "we are not deprecating anything we have said heretofore in favor of air-craft, we can't have an enemy wait while we fix our engines."

The request of the Norwegian aero club that one of the big dirigibles hunt for Amundsen pointed out that it had organized the Amundsen ex-pedition and that rescue work already has been started by Norway.

Mr. Wilbur said that if a dirigible expedition should be sent, it would not be ready to operate before the MacMillan arctic expedition could make a search of the Cape Columbia region with its three airplanes, and

HUGHES MAY DIRECT
DEFENSE OF SCOPES
IN EVOLUTION CASE

New York, June 8.—(By the As-sociated Press.)—The New York World tomorrow will say that former Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes may be asked to direct the defense of John T. Scopes, Dayton, Tenn., high-school teacher, who is charged with violating the state law prohibiting the teaching of evolution.

The newspaper will say that a large influential group of men listed among those of liberal thoughts have reached the conclusion that Clarence Darrow, the Chicago lawyer, who is the choice of Mr. Scopes, would not be a for-tunate selection. Mr. Darrow arrives tomorrow for a conference with Scopes.

The attitude of these men is not a criticism of the ability of Mr. Dar-row, but they feel his brilliance would be offset by his successful defense of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, murderers of Bobby Franks in Chi-cago.

EDUCATION HEADS OF NATION MEET
HERE NEXT YEAR

Atlanta Officials Notified of Success in Fight for Convention To Bring
25,000 Visitors.

Announcement that the department of superintendence of the National Education association has selected Atlanta as its convention city for 1926 was made Monday afternoon by H. Reid Hunter, assistant superin-tendent of schools.

Mr. Hunter issued his statement following receipt of messages from Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of schools at Washington, D. C., who also is president of the national asso-ciation, and S. D. Shankland, sec-etary, stating that the executive com-mittee Monday voted to hold next year's meeting in Atlanta.

Great Host Is Coming.

The convention, which brings with it about 25 auxiliary organizations for annual gatherings, will mean bringing to Atlanta of between 20,000 and 25,000 noted educators from all parts of the world. The meet-ing will last from a week to ten days, and according to tentative plans, will open about February 22.

The convention will be the largest ever held in Atlanta, and school and city officials expressed great enthusi-asm Monday when notified that At-lanta has been definitely decided upon for next year's big meeting.

"Success in the fight for the big convention is largely due to the work of officials of the school department and the Atlanta Convention bureau. School officials made the first bid at this year's convention in Cincinnati and several weeks ago Willis A. Sut-ton, superintendent of schools, made a special trip to Washington to con-fer with officers of the national or-ganization relative to coming here next year."

In the absence from the city of Superintendent Sutton, the following statement was issued by Mr. Hunter:

"I consider announcement of the decision to hold the 1926 convention of the department of superintendence here as Atlanta's greatest educational

Mrs. Rosa Pollock and

Clothes Line Strikes
High Voltage Wire.

DAUGHTER KILLED

Mrs. McDonough and T.
E. Johnson Are Shocked
When Bolts of Lightning
Strike Near Residences.

Mrs. Rosa Pollock and her 12-year-old daughter, Edith, 183 Capitol ave-nue, Monday afternoon were killed instantly by electricity while they were hanging clothes in the yard of their home and Joie Tidwell, a negro woman living in the rear of the same address was badly shocked and burned when she ran to their rescue.

The storm Monday night added two more victims to the day's record when a bolt of lightning struck near 605 West Peachtree shocking Mrs. Mc-Donough, who, with her husband, oc-cupied a room in the house and an-other bolt stunned T. E. Johnson at 200 Simpson street.

Two Killed by Electricity.

Mrs. Pollock was electrocuted when she grasped a zinc clothesline heavily charged by an electric line jump-ing the house with current. Her 12-yr-old daughter, bravely rushing to the assistance of Mrs. Pollock, died with her mother, electrocuted when she seized Mrs. Pollock and attempted to pull her from the wire.

The tragedy almost included others as a frantic neighbor dashed to the relief of the two victims. The Tidwell woman was shocked badly and was burned when she attempted to release the bodies, and Mrs. C. Ableman, who lives on the second floor of the house at the Capitol avenue address, was restrained by two husband from also rushing to the wire and seizing her neighbors' bodies.

Witnesses said a motorman on a passing street car heard the negro woman screaming and ran into the yard. Realizing the situation at a glance he cut the clothesline and broke the current.

Rushed to Hospital.

Mrs. Pollock was rushed to Pied-mont hospital and her daughter to Grady in Bazemore ambulances and heroic methods of resuscitation at-tempted, but all in vain.

Investigation at the scene of the tragedy disclosed that a nail had been driven into the corner of the house within an inch of one of the electric feed wires. It had been bent over and clinched after the clothes-line was attached to it.

The wire had been spliced just below a fastening insulator and the splicing was bare. As Mrs. Pollock pulled on the wire, this way and that, hanging the clothes, the nail was turned until it came in contact with the electric wire. The woman was instantly electrocuted when she again

$250,000 GARAGE BUILDING PLANNED

Plans for construction of a modern five-story garage, which will be combined with a drive-your-own-car proposition, and will cost about $250,000, were announced Monday by Samuel D. Hewlett, representing Chicago interests. Mr. Hewlett declined to give the name of his clients.

The garage is to be erected at Butler and Boas streets, adjoining the municipal market and construction will be started immediately.

In addition to a garage and auto parking department, the building will contain several unique features. It will have large storage facilities, a shop equipped to do any sort of repairing, a modern paint shop, and will provide day and night service in every department.

The owners, a holding by Mr. Hewlett, plan to open with $100,000 worth of new automobiles, manufactured by the Yellow Cab company, which will include coupes, sedans, touring cars and practically every other model. It will furnish a novel service in that cars will be sent out on order, instead of requiring renters to call for them. It is planned to open with 50 machines, and increase that number to 200 within a year's time.

EXPERT DEPLORES HIGH APPRAISALS FOR BOND ISSUES

Cleveland, Ohio, June 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Delegates at the opening session of the eighteenth annual convention of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers here today were told that exorbitant appraisals for bond issues purposes are threatening the safety and security of the financial structure of the nation. Lee Thompson Smith, of New York, president of the association, so declared in submitting his annual report.

He demanded action to curb exploitation of the investing public and to protect existing business properties by taking by safeguarding building bond issues.

Mr. Smith declared the fault did not entirely lie at the doors of the bonding houses, but that real estate operators giving excess appraisals for a price were equally responsible.

the "inevitable union" of Austria and Germany, "for Austria cannot exist economically alone."

"As a democrat," Mr. Gerard said, "I admire the way in which we are represented abroad; Herrick, in France; Houghton, in England; Moore, in Spain; Fletcher, in Italy, and our other representatives are doing splendid work."

Mr. Gerard denied reports from Paris that while in Europe he had criticized the Coolidge administration, noting on the French debt. He had previously denied this report in a telegram sent to President Coolidge from abroad. "I did not know that the debt note existed," he said, "and did not discuss the question in public or in private."

Asked whether he considered the prospects of the democratic party in the next presidential campaign, he only replied: "The wheel goes around."

WATER-BORNE FOREIGN COMMERCE INCREASES

Washington, June 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Water-borne foreign commerce of the United States, the shipping bureau of research announced today, was handled through 181 domestic ports in the calendar year 1928, as compared with 170 in 1927.

The total traffic of 92,000,000 long tons handled last year was only a few tons in excess of 1927, but the exports showed an increase from 49,000,000 tons in 1927 to 52,000,000 in 1928, while the imports decreased from 43,000,000 in 1927 to 40,000,000 in 1928.

New York, New Orleans, Baltimore and Philadelphia maintained the same relative standing as the first four of the eleven in 1928 as in 1927. Of the remaining seven, however, Los Angeles, jumped from tenth to fifth place; Galveston from eighth to ninth, while Buffalo descended from fifth to sixth, Boston from sixth to tenth, San Francisco from seventh to eighth and Port Arthur from ninth to eleventh.

touched the clothesline. She screamed as the current struck her and her body was convulsed. Edith, near at hand, ran to help her mother. She seized the woman by the arms and attempted to pull her loose from the wire, but she, too, was electrocuted as the current passed from Mrs. Pollock's body into her own.

Mr. Abelman heard the shrieks and rushed to a window. When he saw the two victims he dashed down the steps and probably was saved from electrocution when her husband, realizing what had occurred, re-entrained her.

Joe Tidwell, however, did run to the assistance of the two victims. She seized Edith and attempted to drag her from the grip of death on the wire. She was knocked down, burned and badly shocked. It was necessary to give her treatment by a physician.

Considerable bewilderment over the accident was professed at the office of the Georgia Railway & Power company. Officials were puzzled over the fact that an ordinary electric light circuit carrying only the usual 110 volts, they believe, could have delivered a killing shock. It was indicated that search would be made for possibly coming in contact with a line of higher voltage, although it was not believed it would be found. Such a current, they pointed out, would have been "blown" sooner, for it would have "blown" fuses all along the line where houses were equipped for only 110 volts.

Max Pollock, husband of Mrs. Pollock, runs a shoe repair shop on Decatur street.

Three other children survive Mrs. Pollock. They are Max, 11, nebulum, and Herman and Lily Pollock, twins.

Woman Is Shocked. Mr. and Mrs. Pollock were in their room at 605 West Peachtree, the home of J. H. Peacock, assistant principal of the Peacock school, at the time. She was standing by the open window when the bolt struck nearby.

She screamed and fainted. Her husband called assistance, and a physician was summoned.

An ambulance arrived at the house shortly after the bolt struck, but it was decided that Mrs. McDonough's condition was not serious enough to transfer her to a hospital.

So far as could be learned, no damage resulted to property from the bolt of lightning, though the house was plunged into darkness.

Johnson Stunned. T. E. Johnson, of 290 Simpson street, was stunned when lightning struck near him while he was placing the family dog in a dry spot under the house in the face of the approaching rain.

His wife and brother-in-law heard the report of the lightning bolt striking, and went out into the yard. They found him lying on the ground in an unconscious condition.

When he came to later, he said that all he knew was that he saw a bright flash and heard a tremendous report, lapsing into unconsciousness. An attending physician expressed the opinion that Mr. Johnson was not struck by the bolt, but was stunned by the flash and report.

TEACHER IS DEAD FROM HIS EFFORT TO RESCUE WOMAN

Eldorado, Ark., June 8.—Jack Barton, 24, an Eldorado school teacher, died today from internal hemorrhage of the lungs, believed to have been caused from exertion yesterday when he attempted to save Miss Mathilde Goodwin, of this place, from drowning in a lake near here. Miss Goodwin was rescued by other men.

2,000 BATTLE FLAMES NEAR PLANT OF FORD

Iron Mountain, Mich., June 8.—Two thousand men tonight are battling flames which are raging in piles of rough lumber and kiln-wood a half mile from the Ford Motor company's plant here. The burning lumber is the property of the Ford Motor company.

The flames were discovered late today and assumed such proportions that the Crystal Falls and the Menominee fire departments were called upon for assistance. The cause of the fire is undetermined.

HELIUM WORTH $40,000 IS LOST IN LANDING

Lakehurst, N. J., June 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mechanics were speeding repairs to the dirigible Los Angeles this afternoon in expectation of orders from Washington instructing the ship to resume her broken flight to Minnesota as soon as she is in running order again.

The dirigible, which was forced to abandon her trip to Minnesota yesterday when over central Ohio, was housed in her hangar this afternoon after hours of effort to get her there. Approximately 100,000 cubic feet of helium, valued at $40,000, had to be released before the big ship could be landed.

Captain George W. Steele said trouble developed in engine No. 5 when the main bearing became loose, as the ship was over central Ohio yesterday afternoon. The ship continued its flight, however, until a 35-mile headwind was encountered. Later, it was necessary to cut out engine No. 5.

It would have required 26 hours to reach Minnesota, Captain Steele said, and believing there would be difficulty in landing in the high winds, he took advantage of the tail winds to return to the hangar here.

SMITH KILLED IN WRECK

Forsyth, Ga., June 8.—(Special.)—Jeff Davis Smith, 19, son of Mrs. Kate Jackson Smith, was killed almost instantly last Sunday while riding in a touring car on the Burnsville-Brent road, about seven miles from Forsyth. Smith was in the rear seat, while a negro boy, driving, became excited as the car began to swerve and lost control.

The machine turned over and the negro also was badly hurt.

In addition to his mother, Smith leaves several brothers and sisters, including his wife, Janie, Glenn Barnes, of Florida, and Jan, Glenn Melton, Frank and Rufus Smith, of Lamar county.

Next services will take place tomorrow at the family burial ground, near Greenwood cemetery in Lamar county.

This is the third fatal automobile accident in this county in the past ten days.

Alleged Slayer Of DeKalb Cop Faces Jury Today

Decatur, Ga., June 8.—(Special.)—Jack Bell, negro, will go on trial in DeKalb superior court Tuesday on charges of murder growing out of the fatal shooting on March 8, of DeKalb County Policeman S. D. Gentry. Bell is alleged to have shot the officer to death when the latter attempted to raid a liquor laden automobile, being driven by Bell.

Bell admits riding in the car in which Gentry and Ed Holcomb, another member of the DeKalb county police, found 15 gallons of liquor, but denies the murder charge. Bell and another negro, Dick Harrell, are said to have been occupants of the car.

When the officers closed on them, the negroes abandoned the machine, Gentry running after Bell. Holcomb stayed.

Holcomb is being held in jail on a charge of violation of the prohibition laws. He is expected to be a principal state witness at the trial.

Bell will be represented by Attorney T. E. Burton, and Leon Tomlinson. Judge John B. Hutcheson, of the Stone Mountain circuit, will preside. Claude Smith, solicitor of the circuit, will prosecute.

WILBUR DECLINES TO SEND AIRSHIP

he indicated a belief that the difficulties of a dirigible in the arctic would be much more severe than those of heavier than air craft. Not only engine trouble such as the Los Angeles experienced yesterday was likely, he said, but accumulation of snow or rain on the huge envelope might cause difficulties similar to those encountered on its first flight to Bermuda, when heavy rains cut down its mobility appreciably.

It would also be difficult, he added, to locate the Amundsen party on the ice of the polar sea from any air craft.

The Amundsen expedition, it was pointed out, did not take the precautions that are being worked out for the MacMillan expedition.

Canadian Move Watched. The decision of the Canadian government to send mounted police into the arctic, to establish patrols over islands north of the mainland, was received with interest in Washington, although officials declined to comment upon press dispatches telling of the plan.

Indications have come from Ottawa for some time that Canada might take active steps to support claims she has made to islands in the arctic, and it is thought likely that the intention of the MacMillan expedition this summer to raise the American flag over any lands discovered in previously unexplored regions of the polar seas, may have been a factor in the Ottawa government's decision to move by physical possession toward consolidating her claims in that region.

American officials have denied receiving any communication from the Canadian government bearing on the situation. It was said today at the state department that a letter from Donald R. MacMillan had been transmitted through the secretary of the navy, but its contents were not made public.

FRENCHMEN TO BEGIN HUNT FIRST OF JULY

Paris, June 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Dr. Jean Charcot, the French polar explorer, announced today his intention to leave during the first week in July to search for the missing Amundsen-Ellsworth polar expedition. He expressed the belief that the Amundsen party is safe and is trying to reach civilization before the polar winter sets in.

NINE CONVOYS THINK AIRPLANES ARE SAFE. Oslo, June 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Meteorologists and representatives of airplane workers who were in Spitzbergen in connection with the Amundsen polar venture returned today. They don't believe the Amundsen planes were wrecked in landing. They are confident Amundsen and Ellsworth made no attempt to fly back to Spitzbergen, but are tramping over the polar ice fields to Cape Columbia.

The returned members of the expedition refused to say anything regarding the being bottled up, but they gave the impression that the Amundsen airplanes could not have been snatched in a landing, for the reason that they could fly at an altitude of 30 feet, seeking a suitable landing, and then descend slowly even on unfavorable ground.

STORM CAUSES LOSS OF $50,000

seed were planted late. Lack of moisture not only has retarded its growth but in many cases has prevented sprouting of seed and may necessitate replanting. The hot weather, however, also has been a boon to cotton which was planted early and was sufficiently large to withstand the scorching heat. In combating the weevil and in cultivation it has aided materially, many farmers report.

Showers in East. Warm weather has continued over the cotton belt, with the exception of a drop in temperature in Oklahoma and northwestern Texas. It is still warm from the Mississippi valley eastward, though it is considerably cooler in New England. Cooler weather is noted in the northern plains states and to the westward, the report stated.

Showers were reported Monday in eastern and southern Georgia and at points in North Carolina. Florida, along the middle gulf coast and in extreme southern Texas. Showers were also reported from Oklahoma northward to the Dakotas and Minnesota and in the northern Rockies.

END OF OPPRESSIVE HEAT WAVE PREDICTED. Washington, June 8.—The end of the oppressive heat within the next 24 hours in much of the eastern section of the country was predicted today by the weather bureau in forecasting local thunderstorms for the region.

Cooler weather for the lake region and Ohio valley was promised for tomorrow, but a temperature rise was forecast from New Jersey and southern Pennsylvania northeastward to Maine.

BACKBONE OF HEAT WAVE IS BROKEN. New York, June 8.—The backbone of a heat wave, which lasted from six to eight days in the eastern states was broken today in practically all sections.

New York had a spontaneous outburst of joy over the advent of cool winds. Tugboats in the Hudson tooted. Children danced in the streets. Folks about to retire poked their heads out of windows and laughed. Throats returned from open areas to sleep at home, pleased over the goose flesh caused by the heat.

HEAT AND DROUTH WAVE BROKEN IN MIDDLE WEST. Chicago, June 8.—Conscience-stricken and contrite after a ten-day escapade, which stood him outlaw before virtually the entire country, the weather man gave himself over today to a succession of gentle convulsions, indicative of a quick return to a normal June mood.

Freah gales, thunderstorms and queer atmospheric disturbances accompanied eagerly welcomed declines in temperature throughout the region east of the rock mountains, and tonight's late forecasts held out the promise of at least two days of more reasonable weather.

The death toll of the ten-day spell of intense heat, winds and rains stood above the 500 mark tonight, with Philadelphia and New York the heaviest sufferers. Official records in the Quaker city placed the heat toll at 136 lives.

A high wind which swept through the business section of Chicago with the force of an October gale resulted in the injury of several persons by broken glass and falling objects.

TWO FEET OF SNOW FALL IN WYOMING. Laramie, Wyo., June 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two feet of new snow on the level at the lookout station at Medicine Bow today prompted Forest Supervisor H. C. Hilton to suspend fire lookout service on Medicine Bow forest temporarily.

Leisurely this season, the snow piled about a month ahead of regular time, June 21, due to fire hazards. Snow and rain for the time being have eliminated the danger.

BARROW CROPS HELPED BY RAINS. Winder, Ga., June 8.—(Special.)—Rains falling in this section intermittently since Saturday night, following the long spell of hot, dry weather, have helped Barrow county crops. Cotton had not come up in the fields where there was a late planting, and corn was suffering considerably. Owing to the dry weather that has prevailed since March the corn crop is later than usual and the stand is poor.

It is believed by many that the dry weather has been a boon to crops, especially cotton, because it has held back insect life. Despite this, the farmers are planning to use poison on their cotton in their fight on the boll weevil.

Poland's timber shipments to other countries are declining.

GERMAN DISARMAMENT FAR FROM COMPLETE

Paris, June 8.—The report of the inter-allied military control mission, which formed the basis of the allied note to Germany regarding disarmament, was made public this afternoon. The commission, after recapitulating the various measures of obstruction to which the Germans resorted to prevent effective resumption of control over German armaments, concludes with the statement that the evidence collected, despite this obstruction, shows that Germany is far from having disarmed, as obligated by the treaty of Versailles.

The document tells how German officials held themselves to be the sole judges of what evidence the commission ought to be permitted to have, and how the keys of office were lost and found only after documents or other evidence the commission was seeking had been removed through side windows.

The members of the commission, the report states, were frequently told on approaching a munitions depot, where they had reason to suppose they would find unauthorized stocks, that it was worth their lives to try to open the doors, which had been arranged with powerful mines that would be blown off and blow everything in the vicinity to atoms.

This obstruction, the commission concludes, was strong presumptive evidence in itself that Germany had not complied with the treaty, but it refers to other and more specific evidence, contained in the annexes, which it is understood, are being kept secret, because, otherwise, German citizens who had denounced suffragettes to the commission would be compromised.

BRASS BAND MEETS TWO RUM RUNNERS FROM PRISON HERE

Gloucester, Mass., June 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—A brass band and a group of several hundred persons met Albert Gowan and Charles McPhee, paroled rum runners of this city, here tonight as they stepped from a train that had brought them from Atlanta penitentiary.

Efforts by the chamber of commerce and the city council to have the celebration called off were only partially successful. They did succeed, however, in inducing those who were arranging the home-coming to cancel plans for a parade.

SCIENCE PRACTITIONER FREED IN DEATH CASE

Winnipeg, Man., June 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—William Elder, Christian Science practitioner, was freed today when the court of appeals by unanimous judgment quashed the assize court jury verdict brought in last spring, convicting him of manslaughter in connection with the death of 12-year-old Doreen Watson. At that time he was sentenced to serve four months in the provincial jail.

Chief Justice Perdue, who delivered the judgment of the appeal court, said Elder gave what was called "absent treatment," which consisted of prayer. He prescribed no medicine or medical treatment and there was no direct evidence that he advised the parents not to call in a physician, it was held.

WIN Battle of Tires

Set new speed records
at Indianapolis Track

"Gum-Dipped Balloons Helped Me Break World Record" — Says Peter De Paolo

The plain facts are that without Firestone Balloons I could not have put it over. I felt safe on those big tires — on the turns as well as the straightaway. And it was the higher speed on the treacherous turns that made it possible for me to finish the race with the average for the 500 miles of 101.13 miles per hour — breaking all track records from 10 to 500 miles. What's more, I finished without the usual physical exhaustion—in fact it was the most comfortable race I ever drove on the Indianapolis track.

Peter De Paolo

With the same type of car—same size motors—and for the most part, the same drivers—and over the same race track, Firestone Full-Size Balloons again demonstrated those qualities so highly prized by thousands of car owners—more speed, more safety, more comfort.

A World's record was set at Indianapolis, May 30, 1924, on Firestone regular cords, speed 98.23 miles per hour.

A new World's record for 500 miles—and the track records from 10 to 500 miles—were set May 30, 1925, on Firestone Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons, speed 101.13 miles per hour. One lap of the race was covered at better than 106 miles per hour.

Twenty-one cars started—ten finished "in the money." These prize winners were on Firestone Balloons—and drove with balloon tire safety and comfort—with enthusiasm and confidence in their tires. Never before have tires been subjected to such a gruelling test—an exceedingly hot day—yet the winner covered the distance without tire trouble.

Call at our principal branches and see one of these Full-Size Balloon tires that travelled the 500 mile race without a change.

This is one more convincing testimonial for Firestone's extra process of Gum-Dipping which impregnates and insulates every fiber of every cord with rubber, eliminating internal friction and heat—a most important tire construction feature for either racing or commercial purposes.

Insist on Gum-Dipped Balloons—made only by Firestone. You, too, will profit by using Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloons on your car—and take advantage of their extra safety, comfort and economy—economy in time—in greater mileage—in lower car depreciation and in less fuel consumption.

Go today to the nearest Firestone dealer. He will make you a substantial allowance for your present tires—will change over your car quickly—bring it up to date so you will enjoy these advantages this summer.

28 Playgrounds Are Ready For Opening Next Monday

Twenty-eight summer playgrounds for Atlanta children will be opened officially next Monday morning, it was announced Monday by L. L. Wallis, general manager of municipal parks, and Miss Margaret Camp, playground director.

Directors for each of the playgrounds already have been selected, and examined and no were fully prepared to assume charge of their respective charges.

Of the 28 playgrounds, 25 will be for white boys and girls under the age of 16 years, while three have been set aside for negroes. Playgrounds have been established at practically every city park, and at Williams street, Calhoun, James L. Key, and Forrest schools.

All children will be under supervision of directors, who will be on the job for 10 weeks, when the season ends. According to the program announced Monday by Miss Camp, active games will be participated in between 9 and 10 o'clock each morning, and 5 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon. The remainder of the day has been divided into quiet hours, study hours, and a free hour, during which the children may indulge in any form of amusement they wish.

Volley ball, baseball, dodge ball, shuttle relays, potato relays, and like sports will constitute the active games, while during the quiet hours, children will receive instruction in basket weaving, sewing, poster work and dancing.

Miss Camp has outlined an ambitious program, which calls for working out of a special feature by each playground, topped off by a great pageant to close the season. "The playground idea already has proved its popularity, and a record number of students is expected to take advantage of the offer this year."

Miss Camp, who succeeds Mrs. last meeting until early fall.

Hunter Smith, resigned, was elected early this year by the park committee of the city council, and has every requisite necessary for a successful playground director, officials stated Monday.

Officers Suspended For Interference With Witnesses

Patrolmen S. T. McGarrity and W. D. Baldwin were suspended Monday morning by Acting Chief of Police E. L. Jeff and are now awaiting a hearing Wednesday before the police committee of city council as the result of charges alleging interference with state witnesses in the case of Will Robinson, negro, who was convicted last week of the murder of Rayford Newman, another negro.

The suspension was the result of a complaint from Solicitor John A. Boykin who charged that the two patrolmen had placed under arrests two negro girls without sufficient reason, Julia Avery and Julia Golston, were witnesses for the prosecution, according to Mr. Boykin, and their arrest seriously interfered with the case of the state, he set out.

The two women were placed in police barracks on charges of disorderly conduct but later were released.

ATLANTA WRITERS ELECT OFFICIALS FRIDAY, JUNE 19

Officers will be elected at the annual meeting of the Atlanta Writers' club at 7:30 o'clock, Friday night, June 19, at the Ansley hotel, it was announced Monday by James B. Nejin, president. This will be the last meeting until early fall.

Mrs. last meeting until early fall.

Dixie Highway Heads Discuss Road Markings

Discussion of a uniform method for marking roads in southern states, featured a meeting at 10 o'clock Monday morning of highway officials from seven southern states, held at the Glenn building, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, Virginia and the Carolinas were represented.

John N. Holder, chairman of the Georgia State Highway board, presided and introduced the visiting delegates who made brief addresses.

For many years the best interests of these states have been held in check, according to delegates, because of a marked deficiency in transportation facilities, and it was in the hope of rectifying this failure that the officials met. Plans for highways were considered with a view of developing manufacturing and agriculture, and distribution of products throughout the southeast.

E. W. James, prominent highway official and engineer, came to Atlanta from Washington and was one of the principal speakers at the meeting. His subject was "Marking of Routes and Plans."

ROBERTS TO SPEAK BEFORE GRANITE CLUB

Dr. Stewart R. Roberts will be principal speaker at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the regular monthly meeting of the Granite club at the Georgian Terrace hotel, it was announced.

Door to Operatic Stardom Offered By Chorus Work

Atlanta's talented young people are to find in the municipal light opera season, which opens here next Monday night, an open door to operatic stardom, Thomas Conkey, baritone, asserted at the rehearsal of "The Mikado" Monday.

Mr. Conkey's prediction, made after a week of rehearsals with the 70 Atlanta and Georgia boys and girls in the chorus, was based on his own experience and observation of other municipal opera companies.

"You see, I broke into opera through a municipal opera chorus myself," he recalled, "and I believe there are voices here that will qualify with a little more training—and I believe they won't have to go to Europe to get it."

Mr. Conkey's first important role was as Valentine in Faust with the Cleveland Opera company, a place he was given by William J. Wilson, the director.

Mr. Conkey, although born and educated in Cleveland, is one of the real southerners of the company; his mother's father having been Lieutenant Henry Wood, of Alabama, a veteran of four years' service in the Confederate armies.

TALISMAN BREAKS RECORD IN SPEED OF PUBLICATION

Publication of The Talisman, the annual of the William A. Bass Junior High school, shattered all records for speed in the printing of school publications, it was announced Monday.

Plans for the school's annual for 1934 had been postponed from time to time until three weeks before graduation and many said it was too late and The Talisman would go unpublished for this year.

"Can it be done?" J. H. Smith, principal of the school, asked W. B. Correll, printing instructor.

"Certainly," was the reply. And work on the annual began just three weeks before graduation exercises. Fifty-one pictures were taken and students put to work writing the material.

Just one week later the school annual for 1935 was on the press. The book was published in the scrap book style and each student bound his own volume. The cost of the completed publication to each student, including assessment for his part in class pictures, amounted to 92 cents.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS NAME NEW OFFICERS

Boston, June 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—David Newton McKee, of Boston, was elected president of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, at the annual meeting of the church today. He succeeds Torrence Parker, of Belmont. Ezra W. Palmer, of Brookline, was elected clerk and Edward L. Ripley, of Brookline, treasurer.

New members of the Christian Science board of lecturers elected at the meeting were Gavin W. Allan, of Toronto, Ont.; W. Stuart Bock, of Denver; Salem A. Hart, Jr., of Cleveland, and Mrs. Melvin E. Ritchie, Sewickley, Pa.

Reports indicated that the largest number of members for any one year in the history of the movement was admitted this year to the mother church of Christian Science. It was announced that in the year the trustees appointed to carry out the will of Mary Baker Eddy, spent $221,100 of the income of the trust fund, for the purpose of more effectively promoting and extending the religion of Christian Science as taught by her.

"DOC" GRAY, ALLEGED BUNCO GANG AIDE, REACHES ATLANTA

John Joseph Gray, alias "Doc" Gray alleged member of Floyd Woodward's bunco syndicate which operated in Atlanta, is being held in the Fulton county tower in default of $25,000 bond on a charge of larceny after trust.

Gray was arrested last week in Chicago and was brought to Atlanta Sunday afternoon by Marvin L. Bak, special investigator in the office of Solicitor General John A. Boykin. He is charged in an indictment returned by the Fulton county grand jury five years ago, with larceny of $1,000 from W. D. Hill, of Oklahoma City, Okla., who is said to have been a victim of Gray during the bunco syndicate operations here.

When arrested Gray was conducting a circus in Chicago and for a number of years has been living under an assumed name. His case will be placed on the docket of the Fulton superior court within the next two weeks, Solicitor Boykin stated Monday.

Man Surrenders To Atlanta Police To Ease Conscience

His conscience cleared by the fact that he had offered to complete a sentence of 41 days at the city stockade here, A. F. Steele, 37, today was en route back to Oklahoma City, where he is a student in a theological college. Steele told officers at police headquarters that he had fled from the stockade 15 years ago after having served 11 days of a sentence of 41 days, imposed he said, for the theft of a watermelon at a Sunday school picnic.

"I was continually in trouble," Steele said. "I couldn't control my appetite for strong drink, and when I was under its influence I had a mania for attacking people with my knife. I must have spent about 11 years in chain gangs in various parts of Georgia."

"Recently I was converted in Oklahoma City and have been studying for the ministry. This unreserved sentence was on my conscience all the time. I could not forget it."

Recorder Holloway was unable to find any record of the sentence or escape, but in view of the man's evident sincerity he issued a full pardon.

NEW PHARMACY LAW FOR GEORGIA URGED

Recommendation that the incoming state legislature be asked to pass a model pharmacy law, to correct many existing evils in the drug laws of the state, is made in the annual report of T. A. Chestnam, state drug inspector, made to J. J. Brown, commissioner of agriculture on Monday. The present drug laws of Georgia are obsolete, inadequate and totally unfit for the work of keeping the drug supplies of the state pure, says Mr. Chestnam.

"For many years," he states, "the druggists of the state have been working themselves for the passage of a new law. I am sure that every druggist will give his heartiest cooperation to remove the burden that the present laws, of more than 50 years standing, impose."

NEGRO IS SLAIN IN PISTOL DUEL WITH OFFICERS

An unidentified negro, who was shot through the neck Monday morning by Patrolmen R. T. Denny and R. R. Davis, following a running pistol battle on Yonge street, died late Monday afternoon at Grady hospital.

Officers stated that the negro attacked them as they were about to arrest him after trailing his car from Bell street into Yonge street, believing that it contained liquor. He threw Officer Davis down an embankment, tearing his clothes, and then fled, firing his pistol twice at them as he dashed away.

Officers returned the negro's fire and he fell with the bullet hole through his neck. At Grady hospital he was unable to talk and died during the afternoon without giving his name.

WHITFIELD Estates

On Sarasota Bay

HUNDREDS of workmen, drawing the largest pay roll on Florida's western coast, will be unceasingly employed during the summer months to complete the stupendous program of development at Whitfield Estates, the marvelous residential area on Sarasota Bay—just five miles north of Sarasota on the famous Tamiami Trail.

Between now and Fall, more than a million dollars will be expended (under the direct supervision of the Adair Realty & Trust Company, sole selling agents of the property) to beautify and provide even more of the comforts and conveniences that are making this one of the nation's most desirable home lands.

Enhancement Assured

Now is the time to choose your lot, for those who purchase now are bound to reap the reward of foresight. Values are sure to enhance astoundingly during the next few months, for, by October first, ten miles of asphalt paved boulevards, 65 feet in width, will wind through the property, sweeping in majestic curves over the rolling slopes, and down along the waters of this beautiful bay.

Twenty Miles of Sidewalks

Twenty miles of sidewalks are being laid, lined with wide parkways including every variety of tropical foliage—cocoanut palms, Australian pines, hibiscus, crepe myrtle, bougainvillea and scores of other evergreens and vivid blooms that grow in such riotous profusion beneath Florida's smiling skies.

Finest Water System in Florida

An extensive water system, with a half-million gallon reservoir, a steel auxiliary tank of 125,000 gallons capacity and ample aerating and pumping facilities will supply abundant water—the purest and most delightful to be found in all this section. Twenty miles of mains and pipes are being laid. The system is being installed according to the specifications of the Southeastern Underwriters' Association, so that fire risk is reduced to a minimum and residents will enjoy the lowest insurance rates.

Golf Club House.

Plans have already been accepted for the handsome club house, designed by Pringle & Smith, Atlanta architects. Construction will begin immediately.

A huge crew of workmen are going steadily forward with construction of the 18-hole golf course, which was designed by Donald Ross, and is being built under his supervision. Its rolling, high terrain, so vastly different from most of Florida's courses, is enabling the great golf architect to produce one of the finest and sportiest courses in the South—with abundant natural and water hazards, excellent fairways and interesting greens throughout its championship length. It will open January 1st.

With work going forward so rapidly, with all improvements absolutely guaranteed, values in Whitfield Estates will rise with amazing rapidity. Many have already built here, many more have purchased lots and will build immediately—to take advantage of its wonderful features as a home land.

402 GRADUATED FROM G. S. C. W.

Milledgeville, Ga., June 8.—(Special.)—The largest class in the history of the Georgia State College for Women here—totaling 402 in all—was awarded diplomas at the closing exercises here today.

Chief Justice Richard B. Russell of the Georgia supreme court and president of the board of trustees, was in charge of the exercises and presented diplomas. Dr. William Russell Owen, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Macon, was among the speakers, his subject being "The New Aristocracy." His address was well received. The exercises were held at the Methodist church.

Parks Praises Work.
Dr. M. M. Parks, president of the college, reviewed the work for the past year and the accomplishments that have been made despite the fact that the main college building was destroyed by fire last December, and also despite the vetoed appropriation by Governor Walker, which seriously handicapped the college. He also outlined plans for the coming year and what the college expects to accomplish.

New Building Begun.
Announcement was made by the board of trustees of the election, upon the recommendation of Dr. Parks, of Professor E. H. Scott as dean of the Teachers' college and of Dr. J. L. Beeson, as dean of the college of arts and sciences.

The first bricks were laid for the erection of the new class room building during the afternoon. Judge Russell was master of ceremonies and talks were made by Mayor J. H. Ekins, of Milledgeville; Dr. Owen, of Macon; Miss Bessie Butler, of Madison; Mrs. H. M. Franklin, of Tennessee; Miss Alice Napier, of the faculty, and Miss Ross Harrison, of Columbus, a member of the senior class. Miller S. Bell, former mayor of Milledgeville and one of the most active members of the board of trustees, was present. He laid the second brick.

Dr. Parks expressed appreciation for the cooperation of the board of trustees in the work the college is undertaking and outlined plans for the new building on which work has been started.

Seeks $400,000 Fund.
Judge Russell predicted that the next session of the legislature will provide the $400,000 asked by the trustees for the college next year, stating that the legislature will not permit the institution to be handicapped further.

Mrs. C. L. Morris and Captain Ennis, who were present this afternoon, are among the few surviving citizens who were present at the laying of the cornerstone of the building which was destroyed by fire last year. The Central of Georgia railroad provided a special train of seven coaches to take the senior class to Macon at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Joseph E. Mitchell Dead.
Greenville, Miss., June 8.—The body of Joseph E. Mitchell, 81, tobacco manufacturer, who died here last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. A. McLaughlin, was taken today to Cincinnati, Ohio. Mr. Mitchell was formerly a resident of Covington, Kentucky.

Emory University Plans $10,000,000 Expansion Program; Trustees Approve Campaign for Building and Endowment

Board of Trustees Approves Mammoth Program for New Buildings, Equipment, Endowment.

Approval of a great expansion program of Emory university calling for expenditure of $10,000,000 in new buildings, equipment and endowment, Monday featured "alumni day" at the university. The plan previously was given the approval of the board of trustees of the university and was announced by Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president.

Emory university now has the distinction of being one of the few A-1 schools of the south, and this additional program, proposing the investment of $10,000,000 in the next 10 years, will make it one of the largest, best equipped and greatest schools in the country.

Asa G. Candler, president of the board of trustees, and Judge John S. Candler, head of the Emory University Alumni association, announced that their respective organizations voted unanimously for the proposal.

Campaign Plans Later.
The "Ten Million in Ten Years" campaign for Emory will be announced later, it was stated Monday at the university. The expansion is made imperative because of the recent growth and development of Emory university. The institution had an annual budget of approximately $1,000,000 in 1915, while the annual budget now runs close to $900,000.

In the list of improvements will be the erection of a medical school building to cost $1,500,000 and which will have an endowment of $2,000,000. The total endowment carried in the program will be $6,500,000, and the remainder of the $10,000,000 will be spent in new buildings, dormitories, hospital improvements and extensions.

Of the endowment needs, $2,000,000 will be allotted Wesley Memorial hospital, $2,000,000 for the college of medicine, $1,000,000 for the teachers' college, department of religious education and social sciences, $500,000 for the theological college, $750,000 for the law school, $250,000 and for the students' building, gymnasium and athletic field $250,000.

Included in the improvements will be the establishment of a lake on the Emory campus 100 acres in extent and the erection of a modern and completely equipped students' building and gymnasium.

The announcement of the improvement plans came as outstanding feature of the 84th annual commencement exercises at Emory university which opened Sunday with the commencement sermon and which will continue through Wednesday.

ANY WOMAN, any man, can now have a well-developed face and form. The whole simple secret of a well-developed form is in the number of blood-cells in your body. You can now forget all the theoretical talk about diet, exercise, fad treatments, food-fats and fat-foodies. Nothing is of any use, after all, except blood-cells! Thin, run-down men and women, with bony necks, sunken cheeks, bony shoulders—all these are suffering from one thing—too few blood-cells. Science has proved that S.S.S. helps to make the rich red-blood-cells, which you need. Your blood is starving for these new blood-cells! Give your blood the blood-cells it needs—take S.S.S. the great scientific blood-cell maker. S.S.S. has done marvels, too, in making beautiful complexions, clearing the skin, making lips rosy red, the cheeks full and plump—because it rids the blood of impurities which cause pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash and rheumatism, too. ## BOY, 13, ADRIFT ON LAKE HURON

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Port Huron, Mich., June 8.—Some-where on Lake Huron, James McCoy, a 13-year-old lad, of Harbor Beach, has been drifting since Sunday afternoon when he was put into a life preserver and thrown from a sinking row boat by his father, John McCoy.

McCoy and two other children were rescued by the Harbor Beach coast guard but "Jimmie" had not drifted ashore as his father expected. The family had gone to the lake shore for the day and Jimmie's new row boat which he purchased with money saved throughout the winter, was being given its maiden run on a fishing expedition.

Two miles from shore the craft began to fill with water and the father, rowing rapidly broke both oars. Determined to save the eldest son at least, McCoy bound a life preserver around him and threw him overboard, expecting he would drift ashore. Two younger children waited in the slowly sinking boat for the help they expected their brother to bring.

Meanwhile persons on the shore had noted the plight of the fishers and the coast guard sent out a rescue craft. It had returned to the station before it was discovered that Jimmie had not drifted ashore.

A report on the boy's plight has been telephoned to the wireless station at Point Edward, Ont., and messages have been started to ships that might pass in the vicinity.

CENTRAL OF GEORGIA TELLS OF PROGRESS AND DEVELOPMENT IN ITS TERRITORY

The extension of industry and the utilization of natural resources during recent years in Georgia and Alabama is generally recognized. It is commonly accepted that a solid foundation for present and future prosperity has been laid upon a basis of the growing diversification of agriculture and industry, cheap and abundant hydro-electric power and adequate transportation.

The Central of Georgia serves the very heart and center of Georgia and Alabama with 1,920 miles of line. Progress and prosperity of the territory is reflected in the revenue tonnage of the railroad which in the past 10 years has increased 93 per cent. It is the duty of the management to keep itself informed as to conditions so that it may keep pace with the development of its territory and be prepared to supply adequate and dependable transportation, without which no section can progress and upon which prosperity directly depends.

The Central of Georgia believes that the next twenty years will witness a development in Alabama and Georgia that will surpass even the strides made during the like period just past. Its reasons for this confidence in the future are not based upon conjecture but upon the facts as revealed by a study of what has been accomplished. The Central of Georgia takes pride in calling public attention to certain significant figures about the territory it serves:

The capital invested in manufactures in Alabama and Georgia in the period between 1900 and 1923 increased 650 per cent, from 139 million dollars to 904 million dollars; while the value of manufactured products increased 688 per cent, from 166 million dollars to 1,142 million dollars.

Perhaps the most striking phase of industrial development in the South has been the southward trend of the textile industry. In 1900 there were one and a quarter million active spindles in Alabama and Georgia. Now there are in round numbers 4 million. The cotton consumption of those mills has increased from 427 thousand bales to a million three hundred and eighty-nine thousand bales. Thirteen years ago Georgia and Alabama cotton mills manufactured products valued at 26 million dollars. In 1923 the value of these products reached the astonishing figure of 288 million dollars, more than 10 times as much. The increased value is not due solely to increased output but to the diversification of products of higher grade which have replaced the yarns and sheeting of earlier days.

Likewise the steel industry in addition to producing pig iron is turning out rail, cars, structural steel and a score of finished products.

The same history of diversification is found in agriculture. Georgia and Alabama are no longer one-crop states relying upon cotton alone. The corn crop in 1900 brought the farmers of Georgia and Alabama 36 million dollars, in 1923 more than 100 million dollars. The tobacco crop which in 1900 sold for a little more than two hundred thousand dollars, last year was marketed for 9 million dollars. The value of live stock on farms increased in this period from 68 million dollars to 267 million dollars.

Indicative of improved methods of agriculture is the investment of the farmers of these two states in farm machinery, which was 18 million dollars in 1900 and which has grown to 98 million dollars in 1923.

In 1900 the individual deposits in Georgia and Alabama banks aggregated 48 million dollars. In 1923 this sum had grown to more than 10 times as much, or 508 million dollars.

The list might be extended to indefinite lengths, but these instances are significant as illustrating what has been accomplished and as indicating what may reasonably be expected for the future in the light of past experience. The Central of Georgia has made large expenditures in order to supply satisfactory service for the expanding business needs of the section through which it operates, and it pledges itself to continue that policy. To that end it is continually improving all of its facilities so that equipment, motive power, track, shops and every part of its transportation plant may be ready in advance for the continually increasing business we confidently anticipate.

Furthermore, there is evidence of sound public policy toward transportation which offers assurance that the railroads of this section will not be restricted, by adverse sentiment, in measuring up to their obligations for the development of their territory.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

L. A. DOWNS,
President, Central of Georgia Railway Company.

'Atlanta's Own' Laying Plans For Outing at Tybee Island

Publication of transfers in the officer personnel and a lengthy conference of staff officers with Colonel Eugene B. Oberdorfer, chief of staff, supplemented routine matters Monday night at the regular drill of the 122nd infantry.

Lieutenant Frank B. Maloney, announced as acting adjutant, vice Captain Basil Stockbridge, who has taken over command of Company "B," to succeed Captain J. P. Gilchrist, who is leaving Atlanta. Lieutenant Maloney has been a member of the regiment since its organization little more than one year ago and is well-known in Atlanta. He is quite popular in the regiment and announcement of his promotion brought congratulations on all sides. Captain Stockbridge has been adjutant since organization of the regiment and asked for the transfer to the line.

Conference of staff officers with Colonel Oberdorfer was in the nature of an informal session and included various duties of officers, particularly with reference to duties during the forthcoming camp at Tybee Island. Colonel Charles H. Cox, regimental commander and Captain R. B. Ennis, junior instructor for the national guard of that estate, "sat in" during the conference.

Colonel J. M. Kimbrough, senior national guard instructor, was not present Monday night at the drill, owing to the death of the latter part of last week of his father, J. M. Kimbrough, Sr., of Griffin, distinguished veteran of the civil war and prominent for many years in Georgia affairs.

The regiment is bustling with activity in preparation for the annual summer encampment.

Captain Harry A. Helms, regimental supply officer, answered the usual officers' meeting, when it became known that a daughter had been born to Mr. and Mrs. Helms last Thursday. The baby has been christened Ann De Jarnette, and its proud father convinced the regiment that it was the "dearest little one in the world," to which all agreed in view of the fact that Captain Helms is the "last say" so far as good food and bad food is concerned while the regiment is encamped each year.

NEGRO CUMBERMAN SHOOT 2 BOSSES

Cleveland, Ga., June 8.—(Special.) Henry Davis, negro laborer, employed by the Morse Brothers Lumber company camp near here late Sunday shot a Justice, foreman of the camp, through the leg, and later sent another Justice, foreman of the camp, to the hospital. Davis, brother of Will Ledford, Jr., another camp official.

Reports are to the effect that Davis was shot while he was ordered to keep quiet by Justice. He then is alleged to have opened fire on him, and to have turned his gun on Ledford when the latter tried to aid the wounded camp boss.

Marshall Ledford, of Helen, brother of Will Ledford, and Deputy Sheriff Mathewson, of White county, arrested Davis and he was taken to the hospital here. Will and Marshall Ledford are sons of Tom Ledford, prominent Helen citizen.

The wounded men were taken to the Gainesville hospital Sunday night, and are reported to be improving, although Ledford is considered to be in a dangerous condition.

Feeling is running high in the camp, and further trouble may result, according to rumors reaching here tonight.

Dry Agents Plan Land Offensive In Liquor Fight

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.
Washington, June 8.—As a follow-up of the successful drive against rum row, General Lincoln C. Andrews, director of the national prohibition forces, is expected to launch a similar intensive "land" offensive.

General plans were discussed at a conference here Monday. Prohibition officials from Georgia to Maine, and as far west as Kansas, and several state directors were present. The conference lasted all day. Every phase of the present situation was studied. Andrews, as well as the other officials present, including Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, were silent about the results of the conference. The new assistant secretary of the treasury described the all-day meeting laconically as a "general get-together." E. C. Yellowley, in charge of general prohibition agents, also attended the conference.

MOORE AND BRODY AN EXTRAVAGANZA CAPTURE LAURELS

Two excellent acts share honors on the B. F. Keith program for the opening three days of the week at the Forsyth theater, the entire bill being thoroughly entertaining and attractive.

Earle, Cavanaugh and Al Lester, presenting a musical farce called "The Love Boys," and Moore and Brody, "A Little of This and That," divide headline honors. The first-named is a honey-moon extravaganza, and it was warmly received. Moore and Brody made the conditions, despite the fact that scenery and costumes had failed to reach the city in time for the opening show.

Moore and Brody number should be billed as "BRODY and Moore," for little Estelle Brody, who made a big hit here last fall in a popular musical comedy, is the important member of the pair. Her personality is stronger than ever and her smile is even more infectious—which is saying a good deal.

The other acts include Frances and Ruth, two pretty girls who play, sing and dance creditably; Colvin and Drake, in the "Hot Spot," a fairly good musical number; and Pathe revue and news company the motion picture "LORD & WILHOOT."

TOP NOTCH BILL OFFERED MONDAY AT LOEW'S GRAND

Necessary Evil

Ben Lyon and Viola Dana scored another smashing hit last night at the Metropolitan theater in "The Necessary Evil."

In "The Necessary Evil" picture-goers will find a story that is different from the usual run of love stories. It is the story of a stepfather and stepson contending for the hand of the same girl. And interwoven with the thrills, love interest, pathos, tragedy and comedy of the tale is a theme dealing with the effect of inherited tendencies.

Lyon, as the stepson, gives one of the best performances we have ever seen him present on the screen.

Viola Dana, as the girl in the case, gives her usual excellent performance. The Potter-Spiker players were a distinctive hit in their dance interpretations. Leide's orchestra, and News reels were other features.

CRACKERS BEAT VOLTS IN CRACKERS BEAT VOLTS

Autrey Smashes Home Run in Ninth, But Home Club Wins by Score of 6 to 5

Monday was Jim Bagby's usual day to pitch and the opposition, the Nashville Vols, got its usual large number of hits—a dozen—and five runs, but Bagby's teammates scored enough runs to win for him, as usual, and the books now contain six wins for the former Seattle twirler since joining the Crackers. The score was 6 to 5.

The victory was scored on George Piggas, right-hander with worlds of stuff, who is well-known in these parts. Piggas got off to a miserable start, like he did when wearing an Atlanta uniform, but Jimmy Hamilton elected to leave him in there until the eighth inning, when it was too late to save the game.

The fans were continually riding the opposing hurler and it was plain that he was getting under his shirt. In fact, when at bat he was swinging so hard that the impetus of the swing pulled him to the ground several times.

The victory sends Atlanta a few notches further in the direction of first place, since the New Orleans Pelis, the present pace setters, were defeated yesterday. Hollie McLaughlin, Paul Fitterly will go in today in an effort to get the Vols down with two straight losses.

A little luck entered the game in the first frame, which aided the locals in marking up three runners. Keller had popped to Burkett, when Rod Murphy, a left-handed batter, who got three out of four yesterday, sent one high and far in the direction of the left-field foul line. Bankston, new Nashville left fielder, was playing near center field for a left-handed swinger and watched the ball drop in fair territory by about a yard.

Willie Good, a right-handed batter, pulled exactly the opposite trick. Murphy had worked so successfully, he slipped one just in the fairway in right field, getting two bases and sending Good to third.

The locals were having a big time off Piggas' pitching. He had been singled to left to send Good and Culp across before the homebats were retired.

But the pesky Vols went the Crackers one better in the third when they became very familiar with Bagby and scored four runs. It all happened after two men were out. Bankston, a good hitter but poor lead off man, singled. Davis, Strohm and Tolson also got one-base knocks in succession, and Elchrodt followed with a double to make Crackers one down.

Game Tied in Sixth. The game was tied in the sixth, won in the seventh, and extra runs added in the eighth to match Autrey's home run in the ninth.

Red Smith started off with a long triple to right center, which was followed by Brooks' double. Smith also returned in the eighth inning, when game, Murphy singled and Good followed with a single and Culp walked, filling the bases with one out.

Smith scored to tie the game at short who touched second, retiring Culp but sending in Murphy with the winning run, or rather to put Atlanta in the lead again.

In the eighth Gassella walked and was sacrificed to second by Krehmeyer. Bagby, who hadn't figured in the hitting all day, came to bat and got a meek single to right field, sending Gassella in from second with what proved to be the run which won the game.

Autrey, a catcher on the other side who at one time was on Atlanta's pay roll, knocked his second home run against Atlanta this season in the ninth when he deposited one on the middle of the colored batter, but the following three batters were retired in the order in which they appeared.

Lineup Shifts Again. Whatever else may or may not be said about the Crackers, they are about the most versatile bunch of ball players ever aggregated here. Nick Culp, center fielder, returned to the lineup yesterday and was stationed at first base, Rod Murphy, going to third and Smith to right field, showing Good over to center.

This combination proved very effective. Culp didn't get but six putouts, four of which were unassisted, but Nick seemed perfectly at home on the initial hazzack.

Rod Murphy, the "fighting Irishman," can play anywhere you so it's on a baseball diamond. Autrey hit his out of four times up show that it does not impair his batting ability to switch around. Smith went well in the outfield, better than at third base, and the Crackers will have their full

TRACK STARS Hoffman Happy to Become St. Paul's First Catcher

Usually a big league ball player, little joy in the thought of dropping down a notch to the minors. But Freddy Hoffman, former catcher of the New York Yankees is happy.

Hoffman became rather fond of being a polly-wog in the ocean. He's going to get much more kick out of being a muskellunge in an inland lake. In other words he's going for the first string catcher with the Paul club in the American association instead of relief catcher with the Hugmen.

This after spending the greater part of five campaigns trying to win a regular berth with the big league outfit.

Hoffman isn't a stranger in St. Paul. He was with the "Norway" club that first drew the attention of the Yankee scouts.

The war interrupted Fred's baseball career while he was with the Saints. In fact he was sold to the Yanks by the A. A. club while he was in the service. He didn't report to the Hugmen until after his discharge in the fall of 1919.

In 1920 he broke into some 15 games behind the plate. Muddy Lyle and Truck Hannan were carrying the party of five campaigns trying to win a regular berth with the big league outfit.

When the Yanks decided that Ruel was not class enough for their speed and traded him to Boston Fred figured his chance had come. Then, to his dismay, the Yanks acquired Wally Schang.

In the following campaigns Hoffman had to fight it out with Benny Bengough, Al De Vornier and two or three others now and then for second string honors. His only opportunities to break into games came when Schang was injured or suffered monetary slumps.

His best year was in 1923 when he had a chance to break into 72 games. Last year he played in 54 behind the plate.

Hoffman is a capable catcher. His hitting power was spectacular, however. He never climbed into the high spot in 1922 when he climbed to within three points of the 500 mark. The following year he hit .200 and then, last season, dropped to .175.

Hoffman had watched a parade of ball players in and out of the Yanks' clubhouse during his service with the team. When he packed his grip there were only two men on the club who were with it when he made his debut. They were Wally Pipp and Bob Shawkey.

He collected his share in three world's series, which may have softened somewhat his grief over failing to land a regular berth.

The general belief is that his sale to the St. Paul club helps pave the way for the acquisition by the Yanks of Mark Koenig, star shortstop of the Saints, next fall.

LET OF AUTO ENTRES SWELLS

Fast amateur events for the national championship race meet of the Dixie Motorcyle Rally and Gyro tour at Lakewood park Saturday were assumed yesterday when officials of the program received entries of four crack riders of that class.

The four amateurs to send in their entries so far are Sam Bright, of Chattanooga; Hamer Linbaugh, of Atlanta; Clarence Springs, of Atlanta; and Harry Sweet, of Rome, Ga. Springs is a brother of Hammond Springs, Atlanta professional rider who is the only Atlanta rider in the national championship.

Hammond Springs died as a result of injuries received in a race.

Tips were received from John Balmor, American Motorcycle association representative here for the program, yesterday to the effect that two crack riders are planning to make the post-race tour of the five-mile and 15-mile national championship events and the 10-mile southern championship as well.

Both recently returned from Australia where they raced on the grass tracks against Jim Davis, world champion, billed to race here Saturday.

W. P. Davis last night was to be leaving Columbus, O., his home, today, and will arrive here Wednesday instead of today as he had originally planned.

Steamer Moffat, Canadian champion, who is riding here on a stock machine, also notified the committee of his change of program, that he is well on his way and should reach here Wednesday morning.

Gail Joyce, veteran motorcycle man of St. Paul, will be in charge of Jim Davis pit, it was announced last night. Joyce will arrive here Tuesday night and will meet Davis on the latter's arrival Wednesday.

STRIB WINNER AS CLEMONS QUTS

Baltimore, Md., June 8.—Young Stribling, of Atlanta, Ga., light-heavyweight, was credited with a victory over Bill "Bear Cat" Clemons, of Logan, W. Va., at Carlin's arena here tonight, when Clemons, amid cheers from the spectators, walked from the ring at the end of the third round. The bout was scheduled for 12 rounds.

Clemons failed to land a blow, and after the first round made no effort to land a regular berth.

The general belief is that his sale to the St. Paul club helps pave the way for the acquisition by the Yanks of Mark Koenig, star shortstop of the Saints, next fall.

Crowd Welcomes Bobby Home From Tournament

Bob Jones hailed up short at the Brookwood station yesterday, through with golf until late in August, and ready to settle down to the Jones' next national start is set for the Oakmont Country club the last of August, when he goes into the national amateur tournament to defend his amateur title won last year at the Merion Cricket club, Philadelphia.

This time Bob didn't bring the big cup back to Atlanta for another year, but he came in from Worcester, Mass., where last week he was runner-up to Willie MacFarlane in the national open, with the distinction of forcing MacFarlane into 36 extra holes to win the title by one stroke.

Long before the train from the east arrived yesterday morning, several hundred people had assembled in front of Brookwood station, jamming traffic, to show Jones just what Atlanta's golfing crowd, and citizens generally, think of his ability at socking the pellet for pars, birdies, eagles, and holes-in-one.

Scott Hudson, president of the Atlanta Athletic club, Bob's club, was for but three runs. Wilson held the Spirens hillside until the sixth inning, when Pat Crawford rapped out a double as the first runner for the visitors. Daniels and Rubin knocked home runs, while Wooten and Deane did some big-time fielding.

Criminal Anarchy Law Legal; States' Efforts To Suppress 'Red' Agitation Is Approved

Dissenting Opinion Is Delivered by Justices Holmes and Brandeis of Supreme Court.

Washington, June 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—The criminal anarchy act of New York was declared valid and constitutional today by the supreme court. Under the statute the highest court confirmed the conviction of Benjamin Gitlow.

In the majority opinion, Justice Sanford said the New York statute did not penalize the utterance of abstract doctrine; that what it does prohibit is "language advocating, advising or teaching the overthrow of organized government by unlawful means."

Holmes and Brandeis Dissent.

Justices Holmes and Brandeis, in the dissenting opinion, asserted that the measure to be applied in each case was whether "the words used in such circumstances are of such a nature to create a clear and present danger that they will bring about the substantive evils that (the state) has a right to prevent."

"Applying what they considered the correct test, they held it was manifest there was no present danger of an attempt to overthrow the government by force on the part of the admittedly small minority who shared the defendant's views."

"If the publication of this document had been laid as an attempt to induce an uprising against government at once and not at some indefinite time in the future," the dissenting justices declared, "it would have presented a different question. The which the law might deal, subject to the doubt whether there was any danger that the publication could produce any result, or in other words, whether it was not futile and too remote for possible consequences. But the indictment alleges the publication and nothing more."

Opinion of Sanford.

Justice Sanford thus described the Gitlow manifesto:

"It advocates and urges in fervent language mass action which shall progressively foment industrial disturbances and through political mass strike and revolutionary mass action overthrow and destroy organized parliamentary government."

"The means advocated for bringing about the destruction of organized parliamentary government, . . . necessarily imply the use of force and violence and in their essential nature are inherently unlawful in a constitutional government of law and order."

"That the jury was warranted in finding that the manifesto advocated not merely the abstract doctrine of overthrowing organized government by force, violence and unlawful means, but that it was clear."

Right to Punish Unquestioned.

The right of the state to punish those who abuse the constitutional freedom of speech, the opinion said, is not open to question.

It was added that "great weight" must be attached to the evident sentiment of the New York legislature that utterances advocating overthrow of the government by force involve "substantive evil."

"Every presumption is to be indulged in favor of the validity of the statute," continued the opinion. "That utterances inciting to the overthrow of organized government by unlawful means present a sufficient danger of substantive evil to bring their punishment within the range of legislative discretion, is clear. Such utterances, by their very nature, involve danger to the public peace and to the security of the state. They threaten breaches of the peace and ultimate revolution."

Action Not Unreasonable.

"The state can not reasonably be required to measure the danger from every such utterance in the nice balance of a jeweler's scale. A single revolutionary spark may kindle the fire that, smouldering for a time, may burst into a sweeping and destructive conflagration."

"It cannot be said that the state is acting arbitrarily unreasonable when in the exercise of its judgment as to the measures necessary to protect the public peace and safety, it seeks to extinguish the spark without waiting until it has kindled the flame or blazed into the conflagration."

GITLOW WAS SENTENCED TO HARD LABOR TERM.

New York, June 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Benjamin Gitlow, who today lost his appeal to the United States supreme court, was sentenced to from five to ten years at hard labor for criminal anarchy in November, 1920. The charge arose from the publication by him in a radical magazine of a manifesto by the left wing of the socialist party, which the state contended advocated overthrow of the government by force.

Gitlow, a former New York assemblyman, has since been fighting the case. Five times during this litigation he was released from Sing Sing prison on court orders. Twice, in the interim, he sought public office. He was nominated communist candidate for mayor of New York city in 1921, but the election board barred him on the ground that he had forfeited his citizenship. On July 12, 1922, the New York court of appeals upheld the verdict of the lower court and he was returned to prison. While he was there, he filed a petition as candidate for congress of the "Working Men's league," but was again declared ineligible.

In December, 1922, Gitlow took an appeal to the supreme court and since then he has been at liberty, and has been active in radical organizations here.

The American Civil Liberties union, which has been active in Gitlow's behalf, announced tonight that Governor Smith will be asked tomorrow by Gitlow's attorney to pardon him. Six other persons convicted under the New York criminal anarchy statute have been pardoned by Governor Smith, and Gitlow's case is the last arising from prosecutions under that law in 1920, it was said.

PRESENT DIPLOMAS TODAY AT MERCER

Macon, Ga., June 8.—The largest class in the history of Mercer university will be graduated tomorrow, when 97 students will receive diplomas at the close of the 92nd annual commencement exercises at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

The first authentic list of the number of degrees granted was made following meeting of the faculty committee today.

Trustees held their annual session on the campus this morning and announced election of new officers as follows: Dr. W. H. Davis, Waynesboro, president (re-elected); Dr. W. A. Hogan, Lincoln, vice president; Edwin S. Davis, Macon, secretary; and Dr. B. B. Ragsdale, of Mercer, treasurer.

E. C. Callaway, of Atlanta, was named chairman of a committee of trustees to work with an alumni committee on plans for the erection of the new memorial gymnasium on the campus which has been under consideration since last year, and for which more than $100,000 has been raised by the alumni body. It was announced that United States Senator Walter F. George and J. F. Singleton, of Fitzgerald, also were placed on the committee.

The campus swarmed with "old grads" who returned to Mercer to attend the various class reunions. Classes met during the afternoon and held banquets in the downtown hotels in the evening.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered tomorrow morning by Dr. Rufus W. Weaver, president of the university. Dr. Lee R. Scarborough, of Fort Worth, Texas, will deliver the literary address.

In the procession are members of the school board, faculty and army instruction staff. Lower photograph shows Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia (left), who delivered the commencement address, accompanied by Dr. Brittain, at right.

Two hundred and seventy students, much worse than the one in which they spent their youth.

The present generation has organized itself like a labor union and says without fear of successful contradiction that it will do and what it will not do," Dr. Alderman told the graduating class.

"If the college graduates will steer the younger generation, after it discovers the truth, into the right path, then the revolution through which modern youth is going, will be as great as any renaissance in the history of the world."

Dr. Alderman concluded with a compliment to the achievements of Georgia Tech, in classrooms as well as on athletic fields.

Graduates Honored.

The graduates were honored Monday night with the Pan-Hellenic dance in the gymnasium. The baccalaureate sermon was preached Sunday morning at All Saints' church by Dr. W. W. Memminger.

MILLER HEARING IS AGAIN DELAYED

Hearing of litigation between the state of Georgia and firms and individuals concerned in the financing and building of the Wynn-Claughton building and the St. Andrews apartments, both of Atlanta, was postponed in Judge E. D. Thomas' court on Monday because of the illness of Dr. B. Conner, chief examiner for the Georgia securities commission, and George Westmoreland, of counsel for the state. The postponed hearing was set for next Thursday.

The delay in trial of the several cases involving litigation between the state and the Wynn-Claughton building and the St. Andrews apartments, both of Atlanta, was postponed in Judge E. D. Thomas' court on Monday because of the illness of Dr. B. Conner, chief examiner for the Georgia securities commission, and George Westmoreland, of counsel for the state. The postponed hearing was set for next Thursday.

The commission ordered the Miller company's license temporarily revoked about ten days ago when Examiner Conner first made his charges of misrepresentation and fraud in connection with the two local building projects. Hearing on a rule nisi to show cause why this revocation should not be made permanent began before the commission on Thursday last. When adjournment came Saturday Mr. Conner had finished presentation of his evidence and the attorneys for the company had begun their rebuttal.

Several Cases.

In Fulton superior court, the state of Georgia sought recovery of the two buildings and their finances. The Miller company then sought an injunction to restrain Mr. Conner from pursuing his claims, also seeking recovery of the buildings and their finances.

After the continuance of the litigation in Judge Thomas' court until Thursday, Paul T. Arnold, secretary of Miller & Co., on Monday gave out the following statement:

"As the secretary of G. L. Miller & Co., and in justice to that company, I wish to state that the postponement of the suit brought by the state of Georgia against G. L. Miller & Co., and which was called before Judge Thomas this morning, occurred over the instant objection of G. L. Miller & Co. The postponement was asked by the state on the ground that Mr. Conner, the chief examiner of the securities commission, was sick in bed, and also on the ground that George Westmoreland, one of the lawyers assisting Mr. Napier with the state, was too ill to proceed with the hearing."

"Counsel for G. L. Miller & Co. urged that the court proceed with the hearing, stating that it was unjust to the state to allow the case to be postponed to continue in court."

"This is the second postponement of this case at the insistence of the state. It was postponed on Wednesday, June 3, and G. L. Miller & Co. having announced ready, and counsel for the state having urged postponement of the case to postpone the same until today."

"In this connection, I wish to state, as representing G. L. Miller & Co., that this litigation is utterly unfounded, and we only ask the opportunity to be allowed to show this fact."

"We have never postponed one of these hearings for a moment, but have appeared in every forum, and have announced ready, because we felt the utmost confidence that these proceedings against us are wholly without merit."

Anxious for Hearing.

"The public is entitled to know just what is going on in reference to this

ALLEGED THIEVES "SELL" GASOLINE FROM BIG TANK

Alpharetta, Ga., June 8.—(Special.) A new robbery scheme is said to have been uncovered here late last night when Alfred James and Wendell Hagood were arrested and placed in jail on charges of "selling" gasoline from a local filling station. The men are said to have taken possession of the large pump and vended gas to passing motorists.

The garage owner stated this morning he had been "ripped off" Saturday night, that somebody was selling gasoline from his tank after he closed at night, and when called to his garage later in the night to find a missing motorist he found his tank unlocked. Sunday night he and an officer stationed themselves near the filling station to watch. About 9 o'clock James and Hagood are said to have driven up with another party in an automobile, unlocked the tank and proceeded to fill up the tank of the automobile. They were arrested.

FREIGHT TRAIN CRASH IS BEING PROBED

Officials of the Atlanta & West Point railway Monday were conducting an investigation in an effort to place responsibility for derailment of an engine and 13 freight cars Sunday night, in which five men were killed.

Those injured included three members of the train crew—Engineer Dave Conley, of 315 Lake avenue; Fireman John Maddox, negro, and Will Ragland, negro brakeman, and two others, James Carter of Salem, Ala., and Otis Hilyer, of Chattanooga, none of whom were seriously injured. One of Carter's fingers was severed.

The wreck occurred when the engine struck a piece of timber that had been placed at a curve in the tracks, at the Glenwood avenue crossing, near a switch. Wrecking crews set to work immediately to clear away the debris and freight trains were sent around another route.

Bringing to a brilliant close the gay and elaborate program of commencement festivities at Georgia Tech was the annual Pan-Hellenic fancy dress ball, given by the interfraternity circle Monday evening in the Tech gymnasium.

Effective decorations of gold and white streamers, attractively combined with summer garden flowers, adorned the handsome new gymnasium. Suspended from the center of the ceiling was a huge crystal ball with gold and white streamers forming an effective sunburst design. The garden at the rear of the gymnasium presented a gay and colorful scene with myriads of Japanese lanterns festooned from the trees and shrubbery, and attractive Oriental umbrellas topping the tables where supper was served at a late hour.

At 12:30 o'clock the gaily-costumed dancers participated in a grand march led by Marthame Sanders, president of the Pan-Hellenic council, with Miss Callie Orme, and Nesbit Marye, vice president, with Miss Marian Wolff. Sterling Silver
Is Solid Silver

WE ADVISE the purchase of Sterling Silver because it is practically everlasting. There is less alloy in Sterling Silver than in a Silver dollar. It lacks but seventy-five one-thousandths of being PURE Silver.

When Silver of Sterling quality is fashioned by master craftsmen into the designs on exhibition here its beauty becomes as permanent as the metal itself and even a single piece of modest size is an especially appropriate wedding present.

Twilight Ceremony Marks Hicky-Bicknell Wedding

An outstanding social event of Monday, was the wedding of Miss Margaret Louise Hicky, and William Leon Bicknell, of Panama City, Fla., which was performed before a wide assemblage of relatives and friends, at the home of the bride's father, Daniel Hicky, on East Fourth street, at 6 o'clock in the evening.

The house was elaborately decorated for the occasion. One entire end of the living room was banked with quantities of tall palms, forming a beautiful background for the large white pedestal baskets of Calla lilies and the white candelabras, which cast a soft and lovely glow about the altar before which the ceremony was performed.

Quantities of smilax, Madonna lilies and single white daisies were used to decorate the entire house, which was thrown together for the occasion. In the music room the color scheme of yellow and white was effectively used, yellow roses and white daisies being banked against the mantel, and arranged in silver vases and baskets.

In the dining room the color scheme of blue and gold was used, beautiful yellow calliopsis and larkspur being effectively used in silver vases and bowls, the windows and chandeliers intertwined with smilax and asparagus fern.

First to enter were Miss Helen Kastner, the only bridesmaid, of Memphis, Tenn., and Daniel W. Hicky, groomsmen. Miss Kastner was wearing a lovely gown of pink and lavender chiffon, with a large satin sash of pink and orchid hues blended together. Her flowers were an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow snapdragons, pink and lavender sweetpeas and sweetheart roses.

Next to enter was the maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Hicky, eldest sister of the bride. She wore a beautiful gown of orchid satin, trimmed in silver, scalloped in silver cloth, edged with pink and orchid ostrich feathers. Her flowers were pink and yellow roses, shower effect, the ribbons of silver and gold caught with tiny rosebuds and valley lilies.

MOTHERS OF DAUGHTERS
Will Profit by Reading Mrs. Quigg's Letter Telling How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her Daughter

Royersford, Pa.—"My daughter was sickly from the time she was 13 years old. She was irregular and also had severe headaches, and pains in her sides and back. She was this way about six months before I began giving her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped her very much. She is not bothered by headaches, backaches, or cramping any more, and has not missed but one day. We recommend it to other mothers with girls who have these troubles."—Mrs. QUIGG, 210 Main Street, Royersford, Pa.

Another Mother's Letter
Roxbury, Mass.—"At the age of 16 my daughter was all run down, nervous, with poor blood. These troubles made her weak and unfit to work. She tried several medicines, but they did her no good. Finally I induced her to take the Vegetable Compound, too, and she has gained in health and strength and is now working steadily. I have told these facts to many mothers."—Mrs. HUDSON, 252 Eustis Street, Roxbury, Mass.

Sue Hastings and Her Marionettes Greeted by Large Crowds at Rich's

Capacity crowds greeted Sue Hastings, and her fascinating little Marionettes will appear on Monday when at three performances she delighted and charmed her audience with enchanting playlets. There will be three performances today, at which time all will be welcome to enjoy the bewitching "Tale of the wonderful treat that is in store for every day this of Peter Rabbit," which will be given at 11 o'clock. "St. George and the Dragon," which will be at 2 o'clock, and "The Puppet Review," which will close the day's performances at 4 o'clock.

Marionettes have personalities all their own—just like live people. Not one is like any other one. They have tempers and dispositions just like human beings. Miss Hastings says:

"Why there's Sedrick. Now Sedrick was made several years ago. He was one of my most carefully-cared-for puppets. But from the first he just would not behave. His strings got all tangled up. Then an arm got broken. I fixed that. But Sedrick just wouldn't behave. He had been christened something very different. He was to have been a hero. But he just insisted on being a villain. Because, you know, puppets have to be what they want to be. They are personalities and must be treated as individuals."

Miss Hastings has a health play in which health and good food are symbolized. The knight of Good Health always slays the monster of Limes and Keep Well puppy barks as delight at the parcels of advice handed out to him in the playlet.

JUNIPER ST. ZONING CHANGE IS BEATEN

When a large delegation of property owners appeared to protest against changing the northwest corner of Juniper and Fourth streets from an apartment house to business section, the city planning commission unanimously voted to reverse the paper. Those speaking against the petition charged that the section now is built up with residences, and that zoning it for business would cause a depreciation in property values.

The commission also voted to deny a petition asking that both sides of Waverly way from Elizabeth street to the point where Waverly way turns into Euclid avenue be changed from a dwelling house to apartment house district.

Petitions asking that Washington street from Mitchell street to Trinity street be changed from an apartment house to a business section, and that the east side of Piedmont avenue near the Rock Springs Presbyterian church be changed back from a business to dwelling house section were approved. The commission declined to act on a request that some step be taken to prevent extension of the South View cemetery, colored, which is located near Lakewood Heights on the grounds that the case is now pending in court. An injunction has been asked, but the hearing has not yet been held. Representative Frank Hooper led the property owners protesting against expansion of the cemetery.

BEAUTY CHATS BY EDNA K. FORBES.

ANSWERED LETTERS.

M. E. B.—The dark circles around your eyes, the lifelessness of your skin, the underweight, and the tendency to these serious colds are probably all traceable to this condition of your doctor termed anemia. Of course a physician must give you treatment. An x-ray of your teeth might enlighten you as to the reason why you have this discharge from the nasal passages, and it may even be helpful in getting at the cause of your anemia.

Blondie—Have your doctor remove the mole if you feel it disfigures, but do not try any experiments with it yourself, as you could easily leave a permanent scar. Bleach your neck with either lemon or cucumber juice.

Red Head—A girl of 18 years, height five feet, four inches, should weigh about 115 pounds. Oblige—I think you would be very uncomfortable if you wore a pad around the calf of your leg. Try to fatten the calf by massaging it and using cocoa butter or some other nourishing oil. If you are too thin all over, drink plenty of milk and do everything you can to build up your health, for this would be the only way to round out your figure.

Janice—Fleur De Lis—Massage your ankles, using warm cocoa butter to fatten them. It depends upon your own condition how long it will take to show results. If you can build up your general weight you will see an improvement in your ankles in much less time than by giving the massage.

Dola—I do not know why people think that if they drink water they will get fat, but the idea may have resulted from that very erroneous idea that fat people must be healthy.

It is necessary to health that you drink plenty of water; and if you are too fat, the water will help you to get rid of some of it; if too thin, the water will help you to keep the system clean and therefore you will have a better chance to add to your weight. Continue to drink the six glasses daily or several more if need be.

Violet—The advice above concerning drinking water will help you also so you will overcome the cause for your oily skin. Cucumber juice makes a good skin bleach at this season of the year.

Anxious—Just as soon as you have fully recovered from the operation and use the leg, there will be an improvement that will continue until you find that both legs are the same size again.

Tomorrow—Teeth.

SUMMER CLASSES TO BE DISCUSSED BY SCHOOL BOARD

With only a few matters of minor importance on the calendar, this afternoon's meeting of the board of education promises to be uneventful.

An argument may develop over selection of history books for senior high and elementary schools. At the last meeting, Commissioner Oscar Mills stated that he might ask the board to rescind its action of several months ago in adopting Gordy's history as a text book.

An amendment to the rules, proposed at the last month's meeting by Dr. R. M. Eubanks, which would require all teachers to pass rigid physical examinations, also will be brought up today. The measure is certain to have opposition.

Dr. Eubanks also will ask that summer classes be established for students who have failed of promotion during the past year. Under his proposal, teachers would be required to serve without additional pay.

Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, member of the board from the eleventh ward, will ask erection of a new building to replace the present Ormewood school, and Commissioner W. W. Gaines will ask that if a new building should be erected it be located nearer to the center of population than the present school.

WILLIAM JONES HEADS M. RICH SOCIAL CLUB

William R. Jones was elected president of the social club of M. Rich and Brothers at the regular semi-monthly meeting Saturday night in the tea room of the store. He succeeds A. B. Willis, resigned. Julian Boehm entertained with stunts of magic and sleight of hand tricks. Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald gave several recitations, and Miss Jacqueline Eulatt danced several solo numbers. Music was furnished, and a splendid dinner enjoyed.

5 New Buildings To Be Dedicated At Tallulah School

Tallulah Falls, June 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—When members of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs convene here tomorrow night in biennial session, they will celebrate the completion of the greatest Tallulah Falls industrial school campaign, which was begun in 1922.

During the progress of the campaign an increase of approximately $100,000 in the financial value of the institution has been noted. On Wednesday five new buildings will be dedicated. With this work completed, the federation is expected to discuss plans for further development of the school.

Governor Walker will be the principal speaker Wednesday, and while no official announcement has been made, it has been reported his address will give an indication of the message he will submit to the Georgia general assembly, which convenes the latter part of this month.

Coolidge Cannot Attend.

President and Mrs. Coolidge and Vice President Daves have sent messages expressing regret of their inability to attend the council.

"The President and Mrs. Coolidge regret their inability to accept the courteous invitation of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs to attend the biennial session, the principal address will be delivered by Mrs. A. P. Brantley, president of the federation. A reception and addresses of welcome will precede her remarks.

Two hundred and fifty reservations already have been made by delegates. The school is situated on the side of the Cherokee mountain and the buildings rise, one above the other, along the incline, with flowered terraces between them. A site has been left at the top of the mountain for an art building.

Domestic Science.

Halfway to the top is the crafts shop, containing twelve looms, each used for a different purpose. It is here that the girls receive training in a number of domestic arts. Recently the pupils have woven shopping bags to be presented to each of the club presidents. The students in the present art shop have completed work on furniture and equipment which will be utilized during the convention. The Jena Dool auditorium is the main school building and in it the council sessions will be held. The Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs donated $20,000 for its construction. The fourth and fifth buildings were constructed from voluntary contributions from trustees of the institution. They are the guest house and a dormitory.

Seven buildings and 27 acres of land give the school a capacity of 100 children. Miss Nannie E. Davis is principal of the institution, having held this position nine years.

Your Fear of lost daintiness . . . at times

This new way, that scientifically solves woman's oldest hygienic problem, will end it

THERE is now a way in personal hygiene that is safe and sure. That warrants immaculacy under any and all conditions.

The old-time sanitary pad has been supplanted . . . scientifically.

Wear your lightest silks, your daintiest frocks without a second thought. Dance, motor, accept social invitations, any day, every day. Live your life unhandicapped.

The name is Kotex. It's made of cellulose, the war's great absorbent.

It absorbs 16 times its own weight in moisture—5 times that of the ordinary cotton pad!

It is as easily disposed of as a piece of tissue—ending the old embarrassment of disposal.

It is deodorized. And that prevents danger of offense.

It's at every drug store, every department store. You ask for it, without hesitancy, under its trade name of Kotex.

8 in 10 women of the better classes have adopted it. Doctors urge it. Hygienic authorities employ it.

It will mean much to you . . . will make a great difference in your life. Going on with old ways is a folly.

Easy to buy, anywhere. You ask for them by name. Many stores keep them ready-wrapped, help yourself, pay the clerk, that is all.

No laundry—discard as easily as a piece of tissue

KOTEX DEODORIZED

1 Protection: 8 times as absorbent as cotton pads. Absorbs 16 times its own weight in moisture—and is deodorized.

2 No laundry. Discard as easily as a piece of tissue.

THE HAWK

By DANE COLLIDGE

SYNOPSIS.
Dave Crabtree, known as the Hawk, has just been taken on as night herder for the NA cattle company, in the Powder River district. Dull Knife Arrants, a small independent outfit, ride up to the NA outfit and quarrel with the range boss, Connolly, over some lost cows. The country manager, Cato Clark, arrives on the scene, accompanied by his step-daughter, Anita Morgardidge. Arrants transfers his quarrel to Clark and draws his gun on him, when the Hawk intervenes and threatens to shoot Arrants if he doesn't put up his gun.

INSTALLMENT II. THE HAWK IS FIRED.

With a touch of the whip Cato Clark wheeled his grays, and went whirling off down the road and after a long minute of silence Dull Knife Arrants mounted his horse and rode sullenly off up the canyon.

The Night Hawk went over to the fire and, pouring out a cup of coffee, sat back on his heels and sipped meditatively. He was smiling to himself when, glancing up from his day dreams, he saw the cook watching curiously.

"You'll be blackballed at every wagon in the state of Wyoming." "You shuah do look familiar-like," observed the cook after a pause. "Don't reckon I seen you around heah, though. You're the living spit and image of old Colonel Crabtree, down at San Antonio, Texas. Excuse me, boss, I didn't rightly git your name."

"Frazee," answered the Night Hawk with a grin.

"Well, you shuah do look jest exactly like the colonel—or leastwise like he did when I was a boy. He used to give me a dollar every time I hold his hawse for him—the Crabtrees was quality folks—yassah! He'd come ridin' into town on that high-halder roan of his, and when he stepped off in front of the stock every nigger boy in town come runnin' to hold his hawse. Yeh, heh—don't make no difference, he hand the reins to me and when he comes out, atter takin' his dram with the gentlemen, theah was Boots Jackson, holdin' his hawse. Ef he stay up all night I'm holdin' his hawse for him twell he tells me to put it in the stable. And every time, when he go, he throws a dolla' on the ground. Ain't no gentlemen like dat—no now."

"You Boots Jackson?" inquired the Night Hawk with sudden interest. "Say, I've heard my old man speak of you. How come you're away up here?"

"Well, now, Mistah Frazee," began the cook, suddenly busying himself with the dishes, "that's a long story that dat! The pie is, I'm heah—kindah out of my health, like—but I shuah makes lot of money. Moah money in one month than a whole lifetime back in Texas. A nigger ain't much, back theah."

"Speaking of money," observed the cowboy, taking a dollar from his pocket and flipping it across to the cook, "that's for the colonel, Boots. He's my father."

"Bless yo' heart, sah!" beamed Boots, "I knowed you wasn't no gun fighter! Leastwise, not one of them paid kind. Because to tell you the truf, boss, they's some bad men heah from Texas—they done tried twice to kill Mistah Dull Knife!"

"Well, he needs killin', seems to me—carryin' on that way before a lady! Never did know what they were fussing about, but if he'd drawed that gun I reckon I'd had to kill him."

"I reckon you would, boss, but I jest want to say a word now—hein' as I worked for yore daddy and all. You want to look out for Mistah Connolly! No, sah, you is mistaken—Mistah Dull Knife, he won't hurt you but I watched that Connolly man and he shuah give you a bad look. Pretty soon now something is liable to happen."

"Don't think so," said the Night Hawk shortly.

"Well, now, that's all right, Mistah Crabtree—or I would say, Mistah Frazee—and I don't mean to offend, you know dat! Jest the same I knows the signs when something is liable to drop and you jest kinder watch Mistah Connolly. And mo' than that, Mistah Frazee, you keep yo' eye plumb open for Red Pipkins and Culus Du Chey. Theah's two men I know is bad, and they always runs together and I sholy believe that all these men is being found dead has something to do with them."

"What do they look like?" inquired Crabtree intently.

"Well, both is big men and kinder tall, but Red has got red hair and Culus has got black—that's the easy way to tell 'em. And all these settlers down the crick, when they see them boys ride by, they don't come out for days."

"Who're they working for?" demanded the Hawk, and Boots wrinkled his brow plaintively.

"That's one thing I never do," he said at last, "say nothin' ag'inst my boss. Mighty nice man, Mistah Clark—always treated me jes' right—and ain't Miss Anita grand? Theah's the nicest little lady that Gawd ever let live—I shuah think a heap of Miss Morgardidge. But ump-umm, boss, that ain't no way to do, always makin' her ride around with him. Because some day they's a bullet gwine to come of nowhar and pore Miss Anita will git hurted. Mighty curious about her, boss—she ain't no relation to him, less'n of cose you'd call her his step-daughter—but she sets up theah so straight, like she ain't skeered of nothin', and at the same time she never speaks to him, hardy. I've noticed that, lots of times."

"Maybe she don't like the job?" suggested the Hawk.

"No, it ain't that, Mistah Crabtree, but—say, if you'll jest excuse this old nigger, I'll going to tell you something, mighty confidential. Mistah Clark, he done killed his first wife and another man—that was when his hair turned white and then he come out heah and went into partnership with Mistah Morgardidge, what got killed by fallin' offen his hawse. And then, first thing we knowed, Mistah Clark he married the widow; but she never seemed happy, nohow. And Miss Anita, she ain't been the same. Always awful nice to me, though—I used to cook for Mistah Morgardidge—but she don't like dat Cato Clark, no sah!"

The old cook gave his dishpan a vicious shake, and the Hawk rose slowly to his feet.

"Here comes the boss," he said, gazing off toward the herd, and Boots Jackson looked up apprehensively.

"What I tell you, boy?" he muttered, "he's comin' back on the prod! Ain't I tell you somethin' gwine drop? He sholy was soah when you called down Mistah Arrants—kinder flected on his courage, before the boys."

The Hawk squatted down, and poured out another cup of coffee. Noisy Connolly was bouncing high as he came galloping up to the wagon.

"Boots!" he bellowed, riding up to the wagon and ignoring the Hawk, sitting by the fire, "pack your wagon and move, at once. Down the canyon eight miles to the old Savage place, and we'll bring the herd by dark. If we camp here this night the rustlers will stampede our cattle, the dirty, thieving blaggards."

"Here—you!" he yelled at the Hawk, "get up and help the cook! A man would think you owned the whole outfit. Grab up them pots and pans and put them away in the wagon—what's that? What's that you say?"

"I said that, back in Texas—"

"O! You're not in the habit of swamping for cooks, eh? Well, excuse me, but who the hell are you anyway? Some stockholder in disguise? Well, I can see right now you're too good a man to work for me, so I'll step down and write out your time. And next time, my man, when you see your betters in an argument, take my advice and keep strictly out of it."

The Hawk smiled sweetly, teetering lightly on his heels as he sat by the fire and sipped, and the range boss scowled and stopped writing.

"What name do you go by?" he asked.

"Dove Frazee," answered the Hawk, and Noisy Connolly snorted scornfully as he scrawled out the check for his time.

"You'll be a dove," he said, "when the pigs begin to fly. Somebody told me your name was Crabtree."

"Suit yourself," replied the Hawk, "it's immaterial to me as long as I get my pay."

"Yes, and I suppose," scoffed Connolly, "you think you'll get another job as soon as you've drunk up your pay; but let me tell you, young feller, I'll put a mark after your name that'll run you out of the country."

"Hop to it," invited the Night Hawk blithely.

"You'll be blackballed at every wagon in the state of Wyoming and reported to the association in Montana—and you'll go in under the name of Crabtree!"

"That's all right," laughed the Hawk, "that's a good name, back in Texas. Where do I go to collect my pay?"

"To the first saloon!" answered Connolly, scathingly, and stepped up and rode away.

"I'll fool you," muttered the Hawk, and, catching up his private mount, he headed for the NA ranch.
